ATTORNEY GENERAL HADLEY PROBING THE BRIDGE CASE

Jefferson City, Mo., June 7.—I have sent for a full copy of General Taft's decision," said Attorney General Hadley to-night, "and until I read that can't say what action will be taken in the Merchants and Eads bridge consolidation.

"When I have read that decision I will confer with Colonel Pat Dyer. There is some question as to whether the case should be handled by the legal department of the United States or the State.

"I will know definitely within the next few days just what ought to be done in the matter," he said.

MUST HAVE FOUR NEW DIRECTORS IN ALL

State Department Requires Two New Members on Reorganized People's Bank Board.

Washington, June 7.—The State Department has today notified the directors of the reorganized People's Bank of St. Louis that it requires two new members on its board.

The reorganized board of directors of the bank will consist of four new members and one of the old directors.

At present it consists of two new members elected last week, who are Messrs. C. C. Lewis and J. H. C. Cabot.

One of the two factors will resign and a fourth new member acceptable to the State Department will be elected in his place.

It is considered probable that F. J. Cabot, the present secretary of the bank and one of its directors, will resign. This will leave only Mr. Lewis of the old board remaining.

The resignation of one of the old members of the board will follow, and a fourth new member may be elected to-day, and certainly, it is said, before the end of the week.

NORWAY'S WISH FOR FREE TRADE CAUSE OF HER LEAVING SWEDEN

The dissolution of the union between Sweden and Norway has been pending for some time, and had its growth in the desire which grew stronger as time passed for the establishment of the separate consular systems for the two countries.

King Oscar recently vetoed at Stockholm the measure presented to him by the council of State providing for separate consular representation, and the Norwegians maintained that the King by so doing, and partially by his absence from Norway, had suspended his rights and duties as King of Norway.

One of the causes for the desire in Sweden and Norway for separate consular systems was the fact that Sweden is protectionist, and Norway is for free trade, and also because of Norway's more extensive sea trade, and other divergencies of commercial interests.

PRELIMINARY NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE ON

Czar Signifies His Willingness to Learn Japan's Terms and Roosevelt Confers With Japanese Minister.

Washington, June 7.—President Roosevelt's voice has reached the ear of the Czar, and preliminary peace negotiations are under way.

Such is the conviction of official Washington, despite the secrecy maintained at the White House regarding the response to the President's expression of eager willingness, conveyed to Emperor Nicholas at Tsarskoie-Selo this afternoon.

News from St. Petersburg that Russia's Ambassadors at Paris and Washington have been directed to ascertain Japan's peace terms is accepted by officials and diplomats here as assurance that President Roosevelt's peace effort has not been rebuffed this time, and that the United States will be the medium through which Russia will learn the price of peace.

From a sick bed to-night Mr. Togo, Takahira, Japanese Minister, in response to a summons from the President, arose and proceeded to the White House at 9 o'clock. After a conference lasting half an hour he returned to his location and sent a cipher message to Tokio.

TOKIO EXPECTED TO RESPOND WITH STATEMENT OF TERMS.

This is expected to bring from Tokio a statement of Japan's peace terms to be transmitted by President Roosevelt to the Czar. This dispatch carries to the Japanese Government the first word it has received that Russia is willing to learn Japan's peace terms.

Although silent while awaiting assurance that some neutral Power, preferably the United States, had reached a position to place Japan's peace terms without comment or prejudice before the Czar, the Tokio Government has informed President Roosevelt that it did not propose to slip the fetters of secrecy, as imposed on the close of Nippon's warring with China.

From what Mr. Takahira has told President Roosevelt, Japan will make indispensable to peace these concessions from Russia:

Control of Korea by Japan.

Control of Port Arthur and Dairen by Japan, with right to fortify.

Control of the Manchurian railroad, hitherto controlled by Russia.

Payment of an indemnity, figure not fixed or given.

INSTRUCTIONS TO RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR RECEIVED LATE.

There is yet no official admission that Russia has accepted what Count Cassini in his telegram to Count Lamorini last week termed "the offer of good will" of the President, although instructions to the Ambassador are believed to have reached here to-night in a long cablegram which was received at the Russian Embassy quite late and was laid before the Ambassador just before he retired.

All that can be authoritatively said regarding this Russian move is that it constitutes Count Cassini's telegram of last week. No appointment has yet been made for the Ambassador to see the President, but by one close to Count Cassini it was told to-night that it is expected that some appointment might be made within the next day or two.

A fortunate phase of the present situation is that both Mr. Takahira and Count Cassini are personally convinced of the President's absolute impartiality and sincerity of purpose in the delicate undertaking which he has shouldered.

PRESIDENT AWAITS NEWS FROM AMBASSADOR MUYER.

At the White House up to a late hour, it was declared, that the important cablegram from Mr. Meyer had not yet reached the President. The President remained at the White House throughout the evening, after Mr. Takahira's call, to some work in his library. None of his secretaries were at the executive offices, and it was stated officially that if the Ambassador's report of his audience with the Czar should be received late to-night it would not be presented to the President until morning.

Baron Speck von Sternburg, the German Ambassador, returned to Washington to-night. He will probably see the President to-morrow.

Mr. Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador, will be here several days longer. He has not yet seen Mr. Roosevelt. The Ambassadors are keeping their Governments fully informed of the developments here, but little activity is yet reported in official circles in Europe.

CASSINI ADMITS MOMENTARY FULL OF POSSIBILITY.

To allow for possibility, the Russian Ambassador, Cassini, while admitting that the "moment was full of possibilities," had no news to impart, and this applied to his closest friends among the diplomatic conferees. Personally, he was greatly worried by a cablegram from Paris telling of the illness of his daughter, the Countess Cassini, who is suffering from scarletina.

"Contact" remarked a European Ambassador.
